

L'Université
de Montréal
et de votre carrière.

Université de Montréal has more than 10,000 employees and is one of Canada's Top 100 Employers.

UdeM has Canada's 2nd largest student body and ranks among the top five Canadian universities in research, receiving more than half a billion dollars in research funding every year.

Through the achievements of the members of its community, UdeM participates in building today's and tomorrow's world.

Assistant or associate Professor of Speech-Language Pathology

School of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology, Faculty of medicine

The School of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology at the University of Montreal, is currently seeking candidates for a full-time, tenure track assistant or associate Professor appointment in the field of speech-language pathology with skills and experience related to following fields: 1- acquired speech disorders in adults, 2- developmental speech-sound disorder.

The School of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology is located in spacious facility equipped with the latest technology. It is also home to a university clinic where research and teaching activities can be conducted.

For further information regarding our school and discover the effervescence of its departmental life, please visit our web site <https://eoa.umontreal.ca/>.

As a professor, you will have the opportunity to contribute to the excellence of the School of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology:

The candidate will have the opportunity to develop collaborations within the School of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology, with researchers from other departments of the Faculty of Medicine as well as from affiliated hospital research centers. As a professor of the School of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology of the Faculty of Medicine, the successful candidate will be expected to:

- » Teach at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and supervise graduate students (professional Masters in speech-language pathology, and biomedical sciences research programs);
- » Conduct an active research program in is or her field of expertise in speech-language pathology;
- » Exert influence in the scientific community;
- » Contribute to the School's activities and academic visibility.

To succeed in this role, you'll need:

- » To hold a Ph.D. in speech-language pathology or a related field;
- » To have completed postdoctoral studies or gained postdoctoral experience in an academic environment;
- » To have a research record as well as teaching experience;
- » An adequate knowledge of written and spoken French or a strong commitment to mastering the proficiency level required, in accordance to Université de Montréal's Language Policy. An institutional learning support program is offered to all professors wishing to learn French or improve their communication skills.

Ideally, the candidate would have a professional degree in speech-language and pathology and be eligible to the Ordre des orthophonistes et audiologistes du Québec (OOAQ).

How to submit your application

We invite you to submit a letter outlining your interests and career goals, your resume, a copy of your diplomas and three (3) letters of recommendation from professors or supervisors to:

Mme Josée Latraverse, TCTB

School of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology, UdeM

C.P. 6128, succursale Centre-Ville, Montréal (Qc) H3C 3J7

Courriel : josee.latraverse@umontreal.ca

Site Web: <https://eoa.umontreal.ca/>

Additional information about the position

Reference number	MED 06-19/2_2
Application deadline	Until the position is filled
Salary	Université de Montréal offers competitive salaries and a full range of benefits
Starting date	As of August 1st 2020 or later

Université de Montréal is strongly committed to fostering diversity and inclusion. Through its Equal Access Employment Program, UdeM invites applications from women, Aboriginal people, visible and ethnic minorities, as well as persons with disabilities. We will –confidentially – adapt our recruitment mechanisms to the specific needs of people with disabilities who request it. We also welcome applications from candidates of all orientations and sexual identities. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadians and permanent residents.

Université de Montréal's application process allows all members of the Professor's Assembly to review the application files submitted. If you wish to keep your application confidential until the shortlist is established, please mention it in your application.

Université
de Montréal

The University of Montreal and of the world.